that the other functions are appropriate and can be carried out. They would still have to meet all laws and statutes and rules and regulations. It's just a simplification of having a multitude of licenses down to one umbrella license authorizes the others. We deal with recreation camps. And what we do there is we update the definition of what recreation camps are, that's in Section 37, to reflect currently what recreation camps do. And we also allow for a setting of fees by the department to carry out inspection of these recreation camps. Section 39 deals with the 1975 grandfather clause for mobile home parks not having to comply with electrical standards. So that is deleted. It's 21 years ago, and I think maybe that grandfather clause has been done and gone, needs to be buried. Section 40 deals with CLIA, that's an act that Senator Dennis Byars and I worked on, back about ten years ago. And the federal government moved forward, after we passed legislation dealing with what are Clinical Laboratory Certification Act, so that our clinical labs met standards. The state saw the need to do that, but we also knew the federal government might act. So we delayed the implementation to see what the federal government would do. They did pass a CLIA act, so...but it wasn't clear whether it would be implemented, so we've delayed, for a number of times, the implementation of our state act, because we won't do it if the federal government will. And so there's still question about whether they will move forward. So rather than delete it from our state statutes, we think a delay again would be in order. Section 41 and 42 are fairly significant and do deal with committee amendments that come up later. So I think I'm going to pass over Section 41 and 42, and talk about them in the committee amendments. Section 44 deletes a number of statutes that haven't been implemented. For instance, one has the Department of Health and Human Services doing...investigating complaints regarding toys, the Attorney General prosecuting. We haven't done that, that's repealed. We deal with investigations of charitable, correctional facilities, early childhood programs, again, areas that have not been carried out by the department over the years. And so that is deleted. Also a Nursing Incentive Act that was passed to try and provide incentives to individuals to go into nursing. That did go into effect, it didn't prove effective and hasn't been funded lately, and so that's deleted as well. That's a summary of the bill and
